

SPRAY-STOP SOLAS TAPE

FOR APPLICATION IN THE MARITIME AND OFFSHORE INDUSTRIES

DESCRIPTION:

Spray-Stop or Anti-Splashing Tape is used in marine and offshore industries. This high-tack tape, made with several layers of laminated aluminum, was designed by top safety experts with the aim of preventing the occurrence of an outbreak of fire caused by a splash of hot and combustible liquids, such as fuel oil or lubricating oil, from oil pipes connected to an engine or a generator in a ship's engine room. This sort of outbreak is particularly dangerous for it can cause fires and explosions.

According with Amendment No. II-2/15..2.11 from the International Convention of Safety of Life at Sea (SOLAS), ships are obliged to apply this tape to prevent spraying or leakage of flammable liquids from plumbing (FO, LO and other piping). This product complies with IMO A653(6) regulations and is certified by the following entities: DNV, ClassNK, Germanischer Lloyd, Bureau Veritas, ABS and KR.

APPLICATION:

Piping, valves, pressure gauges or any other auxiliary parts become loose due to vibration, fatigue, deterioration or excess tension and tend to become damaged with a pinhole or a crack. Covering these parts with anti-splashing tape will protect exhaust pipes and other high temperature from being exposed to splashes of combustible oil and thus preventing the possibility of fire.
